

Having always had a passion for real estate, Sonya decided to channel that passion towards helping others through a potentially daunting and difficult endeavor. Knowing the importance of a home in a family's life, Sonya is dedicated to walking you through every step of the process. She will use the latest technology, maintain open two-way communication, and make sure to leave no stone unturned.

Coming from a family of seven, Sonya learned how to negotiate earlier on with her siblings. At age six, she even convinced her neighbors to buy the flowers from their own garden from her.

With years of experience in sales and marketing through her previous job as a pharmaceutical sales rep, Sonya understands the importance of giving the client what he/she needs. She has been very successful with sales, having won a few sales awards, because she has a keen eye for detail, an unstoppable passion, and the ability to work well with people, making them feel comfortable and at ease. Sonya never walks in with a sales pitch, but rather listens to the clients' needs and then discusses how she can help them get the best value.

When looking for a real-estate agent, you must find one you can trust. Sonya keeps ethics in the forefront of everything she does. To her, it is not just about making a profit, but, ultimately, helping the client. Instead of selling you on a home, Sonya will put your needs first and work with you to secure the home you want and deserve.

With a love of the outdoors, Sonya can often be seen hiking and hanging out at the dog park with her beloved dog of 8 years or spending time with her family. She is committed to giving you the same dedication and love she shows her adorable chocolate-lab and family. If you need someone to help guide and support you through the process of buying and/or selling a home, and you want to get the top dollar in the shortest period of time, then give Sonya a call.